Sen. Mitchell urges support for health plan

Tells county officials small businesses will save in the end

By WENDY HANSCOM

U.S. Sen. George Mitchell told about 40 Maine county commissioners that American businesses and an increased tax on cigarettes will help pay for health care reform.

Mitchell, the Senate majority leader, spent much of Friday drumming up support for the President Clinton's health care reform proposal. He spoke at Mt. Abram and Dixfield high schools, and at Friday's annual meeting of Maine county commissioners at the Summit Hotel in Newry.

President Clinton will outline the plan tonight, Wednesday, in a nationally televised address to Congress at 9 p.m., but Mitchell said the President's plan is already stirring up controversy.

"I expect a very vigorous political debate over the next few months," Mitchell told the commissioners Friday. "I think it's unlikely that we'll pass a bill this year, but I think we may next year."

Telstar sports

Low turnout, injuries hamper harriers

By WENDY HANSCOM

Telstar High School's cross-country teams are off to a slow start and their numbers are low, but coach John Applin said that's typical for early in the running season.

"We're still putting together a team," Applin said. "We had four people who just had physicals last week and another boy who turned out Thursday."

This year's boys' team has two veteran runners. Senior Darren Wigley and sophomore Jason Koskela are back for another year.

New Rebel runners are junior Brian Larson, sophomores Sean Hawkes, Chris Bowie and Justin Hutchins, and freshmen Jason Billings, Justin Gilbert, Josh Morton and Derrick Chase.

"They've yet to test themselves as a team," Applin said. "It will be another week or two before they're running as a team. I quite encouraged. There's definitely some serious runners in the bunch."

The boys and girls teams have yet to score in a meet, because the two teams have not been able to field the five runners necessary to compete.

"We really have a numbers problem with the girls," Applin said. "I need some people who are willing to come out and say 'I'll give it a try.'"

Senior Jen Bowie and junior Amy Howe are the girls' only returning runners. The three newcomers in-SLOPESIDES OVERVIEW--Construction crews are working six days a week on the $4 million addition to Sunday River's Summit Hotel and Crown Club, a condominium hotel and conference center that opened last December. Since then condo sales have totaled $6.8 million and lodging requests are 15 percent above projections, officials said. A total of 48 one- and two-bedroom condos are being added in a new south wing, and three deluxe penthouse suites are being carved out of space on the top floor of the original building. A ballroom capable of seating up to 800 people theater-style, or up to 450 diners, is being constructed along with two additional 500 square-foot conference rooms and an atrium suitable for trade shows. When finished, the hotel will have beds for over 700 people, including those in the 147 original condos. Approximately 450 people are now at work preparing Sunday River for the coming ski season.

Selectmen pick project committee

Will plan town's response to Cross St. proposal

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Board of Selectmen has selected nine residents to serve on the Cross Street Advisory Committee.

The committee is charged with studying the potential impact on the town of the proposed Victoria Station project, and with making recommendations for town action on the proposal (which includes an offer to buy 6.2 acres of town-owned land on Cross Street).

The committee members were selected following an hour-long closed session at the board's regular meeting Monday evening. They are: Avery Angevine, Leland Brown, Merton Brown, William Clough, Wende Gray, John Head, Arlan Jodrey, Cathy Newell, and Don Vautour.

The nine members were selected from among 14 applicants for the committee. The five applicants not selected were: Ernest Angevine, Babram Brown, Ginger Kelly, Joan Putnam, Jane Rolfe.

The committee is expected to begin meeting almost immediately.

If the committee concludes that the proposal is of potential benefit to the community, then the members will then have until Nov. 1 to make recommendations for a financing package to accomplish the various infrastructure improvements that are expected to accompany the project.

The committee will have staff support from the Bethel Town Office and be able to draw on the legal and technical services of the Maine Municipal Association and Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments.

In addition, the committee may direct questions to the town's attorney.

Bethel tax rate holds steady

The Bethel Board of Assessors has set the tax rate for fiscal year 1994 at $14.75 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. It is the third year running that the town's tax rate has remained unchanged.

Assessing Clerk Merton Brown said that an increase of approximately $4 million in town valuation was enough to offset an increase of $42,880 in the amount of taxes the town will.

The projected overlay at the $14.75 tax rate is $82,952, up from $64,146 in FY93 and $38,413 in FY92. Overlay is the amount of money the town is allowed to raise in excess of its budget. The overlay is traditionally used to cover unbudgeted expenses and to smooth out the town's cash flow (thus avoiding tax anticipation notes).

Sunday River earns best on-snow marks

Killington's back on top in the East, but reservations are pouring into Newry resort at record pace

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The two major pre-season ski polls are now out, and officials at Newry's Sunday River are touting the results as the local resort's strongest ever showing.

But the Newry resort's brief reign as King of the East is over--at least for the moment. Last year Sunday River stunned the industry by dethroning Vermont's mighty Killington as the East's number one ski area in the SKI magazine poll.

This year, Killington (which once owned Sunday River) is back in its familiar spot atop the East, and Sunday River has slipped to fifth in the eastern SKI hierarchy--behind Stowe, Loon and Quebec's Mont Sainte-Anne.

In a second major pre-season ranking, the Snow Country magazine survey, Sunday River comes in third in the East (U.S. only), behind Killington and cross-state rival Sugarloaf.

Earlier this year, Snow Country also conferred the 1993 National Ski Area Design of Excellence Award on the Sunday River trail system.

The Snow Country survey ranked Sunday River as New England's favorite weekend destination. But with local accommodations already full most winter weekends, it is the destination skiers, not weekenders, who have been the target of Sunday River most strenuous marketing efforts.

The third ski industry glossy, SKIING magazine, does not conduct a formal survey, opting instead to cluster resorts in a variety of subjective categories such as "classics" and "hot ones."

To a skeptic, the groupings might seem intended to find a niche for as many resorts as possible--but, for what it's worth, SKIING has Killington ranked as a classic, and

Sunday River and Attitash offering joint tickets

By KAREN CUMMINGS and CITIZEN STAFF

Sunday River Ski Resort and the Attitash Ski Resort of Bartlett, N.H., have announced the creation of a joint multi-day ticket program allowing vacationing skiers to experience both resorts. It is believed to be the first such interstate joint ticket program in the history of eastern skiing, according to officials at both ski areas.

The new program should bring more new skiers to Sunday River, since it will allow the Newry resort to sell tickets in the Mount Washington Valley bed base. There are an estimated 16,000 guest beds in the New Hampshire Valley, roughly twice the number in the greater Bethel area.

Sunday River has been interested in tapping the Mount Washington Valley bed base for many years," said Mike Reynolds, director of the Ski Maine Association.

Reynolds envisioned skiers staying in the historic New Hampshire ski valley and opting to ski at Sunday River on Saturday, then skiing at Attitash on Sunday. "They'll be an hour closer to home," he said. "In the end, it's the skier who wins in this deal."

Sunday River President Les Otten saw even more winners in the new program. "This is a win-win-win situation," Otten said. "It provides Valley guests with a great opportunity to ski Sunday River. It exposes Sunday River guests to the fine skiing Attitash offers, and the dining and shopping opportunities of the Mount Washington Valley."

"The program will further strengthen both Sunday River's and the Valley's reputations as ski destinations, and serve as a boost to winter tourism in Maine and New Hampshire," Otten said.

Attitash President Phil Gravink agreed, adding that "it's important

ACCUSED ISN'T CONVICTED

To the Editor:

First of all I wanted to thank you for my subscription to the Bethel Citizen while I have been away at college in Alaska. I enjoy reading the Bethel Citizen not only to keep up with my hometown news but also to keep a close eye on the SAD44 school board and administration.

I feel that as a loyal reader I have the right to make comments and suggestions about this paper.

I feel that it is unconstitutional to put people's names in the police log before they have been proven guilty in a court of law. I back this up with my brother's experience as an example. Someone called up the Bethel police station and suggested that my brother was involved in a drug deal, when he was simply sitting there chatting with friends, because he thought "it looked like a drug deal," according to the caller's written statement to the police.

My brother's truck was searched by Chief Dale Bellman, unprofessionally, and later police dogs. A smoking pipe and "four unidentified pills" were found. The four unidentified pills were aspirin, but the Bethel Police Log failed to mention this at any time.

Because of this negative media coverage about my brother, he lost his job at the Bethel IGA, which he really liked a lot, and probably other employment opportunities in Bethel. What he does on his own personal and private time is his business and should be respected by other people unless of course he publicly breaks the law.

In the end, the charges against my brother were dropped, but not before his name was dragged through the mud.

Therefore, I feel that it would be wise to not print names, like most newspapers, until after they have been proven guilty, especially in a small town, for the accused and the accuser's sake.

WHAT REALLY MATTERS

To the Editor:

It seems in this day and age that whether a local brewery must reapply for another site plan review or whether Gould establishes a new chair is more newsworthy of front page coverage than the celebration of 100 years of a local church. Are our values changing? Are we sending the wrong message to our young people?

All the articles were well written and newsworthy, but the importance of the position in the paper bothers me. I am not anti Gould or Brew Pub, and I just used those two articles to put my point across.

The article on the 100th anniversary of the Methodist Church was well written, and I was very satisfied with it, but the placement of it disturbs me. If it were the Congo Church or the Nazarene Church or any other church that was celebrating 100 years, I would feel the same way.

FIELD TRIP EXTRAVAGANCE

To the Editor:

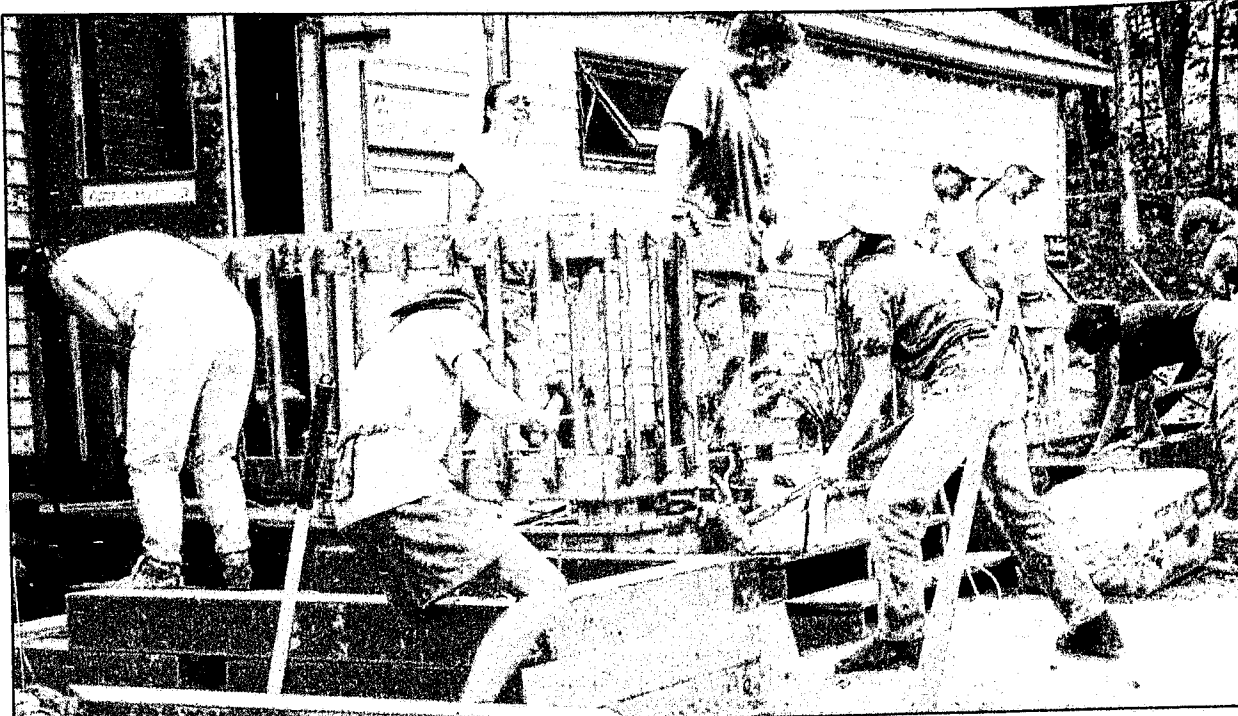

Do these economic times make it feasible, or practical, to be funding a $10,000 plus "field trip" for a small group of students and a number of adults? This extravaganza of a field trip is being planned for the Woodstock fifth-grade class, and presently consists of round-trip airfare, accommodations, and three days and evenings at Williamsburg, Va. the cost per student, as quoted by Mr. Elton Cole, is approximately $546. This group of 11-year-olds will be accompanied by a number of chaperones, volunteers, and "Civil War buffs" at no cost to themselves. For a mother and father with an only child in fifth-grade I would definitely recommend volunteering to chaperone this "field trip;" it would be a wonderful family experience and a free $1,500 trip for the family of three, (of course you better make your R.S.V.P.'s as soon as possible because these plush positions as chaperones will go quickly if they are not already filled by those initiating this "field trip").

The educational benefits of such a trip elude me and were not adequately explained by our new principal, Mr. Plummer. Ten thousand dollars would purchase a number of educational materials, trips to the state house to view Civil War or Colonial artifacts, and trips to a number of Maine towns that offer Civil War reenactments. Perhaps a trip to Sturbridge Village in Massachusetts would provide an interesting and educational overview of a small Colonial community in period costumes and an examination of Colonial customs and rituals.

A plane trip to Colonial Williamsburg would not offer anything extraordinarily to the educational process that can not be found and easily utilized within New England and at a fraction of the cost. Oooh--except one thing--you don't need to fly to any of these locations in Maine or day trips within New England. It was noted by Mr. Cole that it would be some of these 11-year-olds first plane trip and that in itself would be an experience. Reality is that the vast majority of people do not experience their first plane trip until adulthood. Is it the schools' responsibility to fulfill the wish of every child and parent? If so, then why not an European field trip to enhance the teachings of European history. It was noted that last year a trip to the ocean provided a child and a volunteer parent their first experience with the Atlantic--I say great. Ten thousand dollars will provide a number of trips to the ocean.

How can we justify this kind of money for a field trip when the water at the elementary school is undrinkable? Let's get our priorities in order. The next time a little person holds out his hand for a donation of bottles, money, raffle purchases, etc., please ask where that money will be spent, than make a decision based on "what can best meet the needs of the students" as well as the needs of the community. A $10,000, three day, plane trip seems to meet the needs of none but the wants of a few.

VOLUNTEERS LANDSCAPE HANDICAPPED SKI CENTER—Maine Nursery and Landscape Association members and students from Southern Maine Technical College's Plant and Soil Technology planted trees, shrubs and flowers at the Maine Handicapped Skiing Ski Center last week. Dr. Richard Churchill, SMTCC professor, coordinated the beautification project. Each year the Maine Nursery and Landscape Association donates such services to several non-profit settings, from housing for the elderly to organizations with their own facilities, like Maine Handicapped Skiing. Thanks to donations from the association's members, suppliers and garden centers, the beautification projects are free of charge to the recipients. Participants in the MHS project enjoyed a barbecue, hosted by MHS staff members.

The plan calls for every business to pay for its employees' health coverage. Employers would pay 80 percent and workers the remainder. Some small businesses and low-income workers would get government subsidies. Businesses would pay pro-rated shares on part-time employees.

"A special concern must be toward small businessmen and women," Mitchell said. "The overwhelming majority of small businesses already provide health insurance for their employees, and those that do not want to do so. This is not a case of people not wanting to provide health benefits to their employees. They want to provide health insurance—they can't in terms of the cost."

Small businesses will be better able to afford health insurance because Clinton's plan would be cheaper, Mitchell said. Forcing all doctors, hospitals, labs and other health care providers to use a single standardized claims form is one way to lower insurance costs, he said.

Some small businesses may also save money, he said, because the government will put a stop to insurance companies' charging small businesses up to 35 percent more than large companies.

Higher taxes on cigarettes, and possibly liquor, will also help pay for the plan.

"The only taxes that are likely to be increased are so-called sin taxes," Mitchell said. "I hope not, but there may be an increase in liquor, wine and beer taxes, which I personally do not favor. Federal excise tax on cigarettes is now 24 cents a pack. The discussions range from anywhere to increasing it to 50 cents, 70 cents, up to $1. The overwhelming majority of Americans favor a cigarette tax increase."

The plan would guarantee every American a broad package of health benefits including check-ups, emergency care, drugs, hospital stays and more. People with pre-existing conditions would also be covered.

"The basic package of benefits will move with people everywhere they go," Mitchell said. "Now, if you leave your job, you lose your health insurance, so what's been created for millions of Americans is job lock. People are afraid to leave their jobs and lose their health insurance."

Elderly citizens would continue to receive health care benefits from Medicare, with improved long-term care benefits and new outpatient drug benefits.

The self-employed would pay 100 percent of their premium, but the entire expense would be tax-deductible, instead of the 25 percent now deductible.

Mitchell said more than 37 million people are now without health care insurance, and one out of four Americans is expected to lose insurance over the next few years.

"We have to control the expense of health care," he said. "The cost is increasing at a rate of about 12 to 15 percent a year, three or four times the rate of inflation."

Americans spent 27 billion for health care in 1960, he said, $840 billion in 1993 and a projected $950 billion in 1994.

U.S. SEN. GEORGE MITCHELL

How secure is your family's health insurance?

You've seen the ads on T.V. There's no way you can miss them. Insurance companies spend millions on image advertising to make us feel secure, safe, confident. But there's a big difference between the image and the reality of what insurers call "protection."

More and more families are discovering that their health insurance doesn't insure, not against the things that really matter or the health care crises that really come up. The fine print on health insurance policies allows companies to deny you benefits you've been paying for, or even cut off your coverage just as an illness becomes critical.

Every month, two million Americans lose their health insurance. People like you and me. In fact, one month it could be you or me.

Every month two million people just like us find out they're cut off, on their own, helpless to defend themselves against the crippling costs of debilitating illness, accident or long-term care.

Some lose insurance when they are laid off. Others lose insurance when they graduate from school. Others, when their company plan collapses. Many are just plain priced out of protection when their premiums are raised sky high. And some, like one small business owner in eastern Tennessee, get letters by registered mail: "This is to inform you that your insurance policy is hereby canceled."

He was going through treatments for cancer at the time. Now, this letter from some faceless insurance company bureaucrat felt like the final blow. And he suffered a dangerous nine-month delay in his cancer treatment because his insurance failed him.

A dentist in Baton Rouge was a little luckier—for a little while. He got the grim news so many Americans receive each year—cancer. Then, like the Tennessee businessman, he got a letter from his insurance company. No, he wasn't losing his coverage, but he was going to have to pay more in premiums—$10,000 a year!

The dentist felt he had no choice. He paid the higher premiums. But his insurance company had a choice, a cruel and all too common choice today. After a while they wrote him a second letter. This one was like the one the Tennessee business owner got.

You're no longer covered, the letter said. After years of paying for insurance—even when the rates became exorbitant—the insurance company was writing to inform the dentist they were going to take the money and run.

He is on his own now, with a cancer the doctors say is in remission but still a constant worry, shared by everyone in his family. What will happen if and when the cancer returns? What will he do after his remaining savings run out?

The Tennesseean knew about the operation that could save his life when he got his letter from the insurance company. It was a procedure that's available within a few weeks, or even a few days, to people who have comprehensive coverage. Unless your insurance fails you, as it failed him.

"I had no idea that this could happen," his wife says now. They had always, as President Clinton says, worked hard and played by the rules. They always paid their insurance premiums on time. Now, the insurance company they had depended on has abandoned their trust and left them to face the consequences.

Thanks to our payments, insurance companies have grown rich and profitable. After all we've given them, these giants owe us more than reassurances.

Health care reform must include a crackdown on insurance companies that don't insure. Fine print should be banned. Benefits should be spelled out in plain English. And no insurance company should ever have the right to dump you for any reason, ever!

By Ron Pollack, executive director of Families USA, the national consumer advocacy group for health care reform.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

On Saturday, Oct. 2, Maine Citizens for Historic Preservation will hold its annual meeting at the Dr. Moses Mason House. Concurrent with this meeting, Maine Citizens, the National Park Service, the National Institute for the Conservation of Cultural Property and the Bethel Historical Society are sponsoring an all-day workshop, "Care of the Historic Site: Assessing Needs and Implementing Solutions."

Among the speakers for the day will be Arthur Dutil, buildings and grounds superintendent, Chesterwood, Stockbridge, Mass., "General Maintenance and Disaster Preparedness for the Historic Site," Erik Jorgensen, president of the Maine Association of Museums and director, Pejepscot Historical Society, Brunswick, "Identifying and Establishing Maintenance Priorities," Nancy Carlisle, associate curator/collections manager, Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, Boston, Mass., "Interiors—Housekeeping, Climate Control and Handling of Collections."

Both the Dr. Moses Mason House and the nearby John Hastings Homestead (1820) will be toured by participants. For further information, please call Thomas B. Johnson, executive director, Maine Citizens for Historic Preservation at 207-775-3652 or write P.O. Box 1198, Portland, Me., 04104.

Society Director Stanley R. Howe attended a Scholar's Institute at Bowdoin College recently on the book discussion series "Different People, Different Places" sponsored by the Massachusetts Foundations for the Humanities in cooperation with the Maine and New Hampshire Humanities councils. The Bethel Library will be hosting the series beginning in January.

Howe also was the featured speaker at the annual meeting of the Kennebunkport Historical Society last week.

The Oxford County League of Historical Societies met Saturday at South Paris. Featured speaker for the afternoon was Ben B. Conant, Paris Cape Historical Society curator of collections, who spoke on African Americans in Oxford County in the 18th and 19th centuries.

UNITED WAY KICK-OFF

The 1993 United Way campaign in the Bethel-SAD44 area opens on Sept. 29 with a kick-off breakfast at the Summit Hotel in Sunday River. The breakfast will serve as a booster rally of United Way agency workers, volunteers and contributors.

County United Way board members and Executive Director Dennis Gray will recognize various local people who have helped United Way efforts during the past year.

The Bethel area fund-raising goal for the 1993 campaign is $4,670. Nearly 25 percent of the Bethel area goal has already been reached. The overall county goal is $70,000.

Anyone wishing to attend the kick-off breakfast at the Summit Hotel is welcome to attend. Cost of the event is $8 and reservations can be made by calling the United Way office at 743-5833.

And Sunday River spokesman Skip King said both season ticket sales and reservations are "up significantly" from this time last year.

Few in the industry would claim that ski surveys are an exercise in scientific analysis.

For one thing, the individual surveys vary so much in size, methodology and focus from magazine to magazine (even from year to year for the same magazine) that any comparisons are suspect.

Ever upward

The surveys have also been a reliable barometer of Sunday River's meteoric rise from being a small, day-trip area in the mid 1970s to its undisputed status now as one of the East's top resorts.

As Sunday River officials see it, the latest round of survey results only serve to validate the local resort's rising stature.

For example, Sunday River's rankings in Snow Country have seen a four-year climb in both ski area measurement and reader response, with the current rankings representing its strongest finish ever.

"Sunday River does very well in both surveys each year," noted Sunday River President Les Otten. "Contrary to some earlier press reports, our finish in Snow Country this year was our best ever. And the design award was especially gratifying. The panel was made up of some of the most highly experienced ski resort planners in the business—folks who really know how to please skiers."

Despite Sunday River's strong showings, Otten cautioned skiers not to use the surveys as their sole source of information in selecting a vacation destination. And he offered some tips on how to use the surveys to best advantage. "We believe both surveys can be useful tools," he said. "We do, however, recommend that skiers use them carefully. The overall rankings include results that may or may not be important to each skier. So look for the categories most important to you. If you've got young kids, good child care is essential. If you're looking for great snow, check the listings relative to snow quality. And the best advice is still often from friends who've been to an area. They're the most likely to understand your needs, and how a given ski area will meet them."

"The key," said Otten, "is to recognize that the surveys are not infallible, and to use every source of information available. The surveys. Magazine and newspaper articles. Your friends. Put them all together, and you can generally find a ski resort destination that meets your needs exactly."

Opening soon?

Sunday River officials are aiming for a mid-October opening, spokesman King said, but the mountain will be ready to go sooner if a suitable weather window opens.

"With our new snowmaking equipment we only need about six hours at 28 degrees or lower," King said.

WIN YOUR OWN RESTAURANT—Following the example of the Center Lovell Inn, Richard Barnum of East Waterford is offering Lou's Family Restaurant and Store for sale to the best essayist for a $100 entry fee. Entries should be postmarked before April 1 and sent to Lou's Family Restaurant and Variety Store, HCR 65 Box 159, Norway, Maine, 04268. More than one entry may be submitted as long as each is attached to a $100 check. Entries will be based on originality, wit, inspiration, creativity, expression of thought, human interest and the conveyance of a desire to run a family restaurant and variety store. The winner must agree to operate the restaurant and store for at least six months after the property transfer.

From the Bethel Police log:

ATVs roam private property

Thursday, a Barter Road resident reported that ATVs were being ridden in the roadway. Police responded but did not find any illegal activity. The woman also complained that ATV riders had been tearing up land in the area.

Last Tuesday, police stopped a vehicle suspected to have been involved in a Norway-area burglary. The vehicle was held until an Oxford County Sheriff's deputy arrived.

Sunday, police charged a Gilead juvenile with operating a motorcycle without a license, for operating and unregistered and unlicensed vehicle and for failure to show proof of insurance.

torney and technical consultants. Any costs incurred will be submitted to the developer as reimbursable if the development occurs.

Other business

In an unrelated committee appointment Monday, the selectmen selected Fran Tyler to fill the unexpired term of school board member Cheryl Eliot.

Eliot, whose term runs until June 1994, had resigned earlier this month citing a lack of time.

The selectmen also approved, unanimously, an easement to allow the Bethel Inn to install an underground telephone conduit from the inn to the Elms building across the town common.

William White, the inn's general manager, said the new cable was needed because a preexisting cable between the two buildings had been destroyed in the course of the summer's construction work around the common.

The original cable was probably installed between 1923 and 1930, by William Bingham, White said, but no written easement for the line could be found.

The selectmen agreed to White's request for a new easement, but with the condition that the town not be held responsible for any damage that might occur to the cable in the future.

The board Monday also approved revisions to the town's general assistance ordinance. The revisions, which follow the model suggested by the MMA, are intended to bring the town's assistance rules into line with increasingly stringent state regulations.

The board also lowered the interest rate on sewer hook-up loans from 8 percent to 6 percent, and approved changes to the Appeals Board membership structure.

The Appeals Board changes must be affirmed by voters at the next Town Meeting.

Tickets

to listen to what skiers want. For people vacationing in New England, the two mountains complement each other very well."

But reaction from other Mount Washington ski areas was less enthusiastic. "I'm shocked," said Paul Lodi, director of marketing for Wildcat Mountain in Pinkham Notch, less than an hour from Sunday River. "It's a smart move for Attitash to align themselves with a bigger mountain," he said, "but they've been one of the most vocal advocates of barring Sunday River from any of our organizations or any joint marketing programs."

While a multi-day lift ticket involving different ski areas is not a new concept, Otten and Gravink said the Sunday River/Attitash ticket program is believed to be the East's first involving ski areas located in different states. "There are joint ticket programs involving ski areas that are much further apart than Sunday River and Attitash," Otten noted, "but they all involve ski areas located within the same state—and sometimes owned by the same parent company. This is an unparalleled example of forward-thinking ski areas working together to promote the sport and their local economies."

The joint ticket program includes a two-day offer entitling the bearer to a day of skiing at each resort. The two-day ticket is available only at participating inns and hotels in the Valley and the Bethel area.

The resorts will also offer on-premise sales of three- and five-day "Wildcard" packages. A Wildcard package purchased at either resort entitles the bearer to an optional day of skiing at the other area. The two ski areas are approximately one hour's drive from each other. Wildcard packages are available during midweek, non-holiday periods.

Sample prices: two-day Sunday River/Attitash ticket, $70; three-day midweek/non-holiday Wildcard (purchased at Attitash), $72; five-day midweek/non-holiday Wildcard (purchased at Sunday River), $187.

North Newry

By GIL SEELEY

Happy 15th Birthday Jason Berry on Sept. 23.

Norman and Louise Tetley attended the Shriners' Northeast Convention in Ottawa for four days.

The Ladies Circle of the Newry Community Church want to thank everyone who donated food for the sale at the I.G.A. on Friday, the 17th of September.

The Newry Mothers' Club met Monday night, Sept. 13 at the Town Building with only five members present. The sad part was that not much business was accomplished, except the report of the finances and cards sent to shut-ins by Sunshine Lady Olive Anderson. What is the matter? Is the club on the way out? Where are all the members who show up for the banquet or other fun times but not at the meetings? If the club folds up, the Newry kids will go without... The club was formed to help with their activities, the graduation gifts, Storyland trips, etc. We need new members and loyal old members...

Please show up at the next meeting on Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Building for election of officers, payment of dues, and naming the snack committee, etc. Please bring something for refreshments for that night.

The "Newry Bowling Gang"--Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Louise Tetley, Doris Parent, Irene Hadsfield and Sylvia Wight were at the Oxford Lanes, Rumford last week. Of the "Lefties," Karlene was high on the triples and singles with one string of 104. Of the "Righties," Irene was high on the triples and singles. Karlene had three spares and one strike, Betsy had two spares and one strike, Gil had one spare and one strike, Doris had two spares, Irene had two spares, and Sylvia had three spares.

Happy Birthday to Jim Anderson. "To the old, long life and treasure, to the young, all health and pleasure."

"Et-et-er-a"... The world is crying not for men who know what to do, but for men who know how to do it... Amen to that.

West Paris

By MIRIAM INMAN

Virginia Aridas of Holbrook, N.Y., spent the weekend with her parents, Vernon and Miriam Inman. Vicky Sanborn, Brant and Caroline from No. Conway were here, also, during the weekend.

The annual meeting of the Universalist Church was held Wednesday evening. Reports were given from various organizations. The following were elected as officers for the coming year: Robert Clifford, moderator; secretary, Marta Clements; treasurer, Beverly Stevens; trustee for three years, Roscoe Perham.

Forward Fellowship will meet on Monday, Sept. 27, for a 6:30 potluck supper at the home of Marla Clements. Plans will be made for the annual pumpkin sale which will be held on Saturday, Oct. 2, at Emery's Building Materials' parking lot.

Would like to have people call me with news items--674-2295.

The chill winds and near frosts make us more aware of the coming season, but the hot and muggy days lull our senses into thinking it is a long way off.

The leaves are losing cholesterol and showing their real color. This creates a different beauty from the peak, as a single limb of a tree reaches out over Backstreet Highway waving the only brilliant red leaves of the tree. One tree on the stonewall always turns first and stands out vividly amongst the green.

The final class of the Upton-Errol Quilters under the expert teaching of Mary Learned was held Wednesday evening. Mary will continue teaching with monthly workshops, where she will teach individual patterns and technique.

The next Ladies' Aid business meeting will be held Monday evening, Sept. 27.

Bryant Pond

By ALICE HOYT

The Historical Society's collections are quite distinguished. Ray and Annella Burnham watched the museum recently. The Historical Society notes that classical music exhibits real greatness. Enjoy it. Curator Larry Billings gave the historical museum a frame. The Historical Society shares our heritage with everyone. At the September business meeting of the Woodstock Historical Society, the following were elected: president, Annella Burnham; vice president, Evelyn Bean; secretary, Kathleen Bean; treasurer, Paul Billings; new trustee, Francis Brooks; chairman of the board of trustees, Olive Risko; vice chairman, Ruth Cox; curator, Larry Billings. Ray Burnham presented the program. Money was voted for some work on the furnace. Alice Hoyt and Beatrice Farnum watched the museum in the afternoon with help from Francis Brooks. Let's hope the new year is a success. The Society notes that Donald Cowie says about antiques that "by reason of its quality, beauty, rarity, antiquity, curiosity or vogue, it is sufficiently esteemed and coveted as to have value." The Society encourages you to reflect on events during your lifetime. They eventually become a part of history too.

Judith Grover Tent No 17, D.U.V. met at the Grange Hall on Monday, Sept. 13 with 12 members present. In the absence of President Althea Stevens, JoAnn Crockett presided at the meeting. Bessie House filled in as senior vice president and Beatrice Farnum as chaplain. General orders No. 1 was read as were other letters. The reception for Gail and Otis will be held on Sunday, Oct. 10 at Oxford. We are to make bars or cookies. Sally sent her pictures and notes from National Convention in Oklahoma and the dedication of the soldiers' and sailors' monument in Portland, and notes on the civil War reenactment in Augusta where some members sold cookies and cider. The money from this went to Save the Flags fund at the Maine Museum. There will be a silent auction next meeting. Thirty-six calls were made. Next meeting is Oct. 11 with a tasting party.

The Bryant Pond Baptist Church is holding Evangelistic services Sunday, Sept. 26 through Wednesday, Sept. 29. The speaker will be Rev. Austin Calder from Campbell, New Brunswick. Rev. Calder was a pastor for many years and now is a conference speaker and Evangelist. Services on Sunday are 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. and weekdays at 7 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Leatrice Chase, Alice Hoyt and Beatrice Farnum had lunch at Berlin Dairy on Wednesday to celebrate Beatrice's birthday. The Woodstock Senior Citizens will go to the Town & Country for their meeting and lunch on Thursday, Oct. 7.

Locke Mills

By CRYSTAL LAKE

The descendants of Elton and

Mabel (Morgan) Dunham held their 47th annual reunion on Sept. 12 at the home of Leland and Sylvia Dunham, the former home of Clyde and Rowena Dunham on Howe Hill Road, Locke Mills. A wonderful day and a great potluck dinner was enjoyed by 71 descendants and friends.

There will be a Greenwood Historical Society meeting on Oct. 6 at the Society building on Route 26 at 7:30 p.m. Their meetings are always on the first Wednesday of every month; everyone is welcome to attend. The speaker at the Oct. 6th meeting will be Randy Bennett on the "Social History of the White Mountains in Maine and New Hampshire."

The Scottish Clan MacBean will hold a New England gathering on Saturday, Oct. 16 at Lyndon Center, Vt. All members and non members are welcome to attend (Bean, Beane, Bain, Bane, Bayne, Been, Vane, Vain, Veen, etc.) The registration will be at the Town Hall in Locke Mills from 9 to 10 a.m. on that day. The gathering is free, and for more information you can call 875-3726.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

September brings memories, especially when I see the children going back to school. Then I think about the little school houses, eight of them in Greenwood when I started to teach. Now there is NO school in our town. Those little schools with eight years of memories have been swept away. Those of us who attended them recall the double desks or single rows of desks, some of which had hinged tops and desks and chairs were fastened to the floor.

Woe to anyone who let the cover of the desk fall in a still classroom, for Teacher's voice was stern when she said, "Bill, I'll see you after class!"

Discipline was handed out to those who did not follow the rules.

But there were more fun memories than bad ones.

The holidays were planned and celebrated: Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentines (when the boys always made ice cream) and a picnic on closing day.

Grade eight usually took a trip to a museum, an animal farm or to an old fort, where they learned a bit of history.

Graduation for grade eight was an eventful time too. How nice looking they all were in their pretty dresses and new suits.

The town was interested in their children and the room was packed with parents and friends.

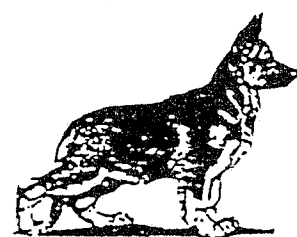

Teacher was usually presented with flowers or gifts from the graduates and she or he was proud of the graduates. Each was presented with an elementary diploma as he stood before the audience. What a thrill that was. This was their first step on their way to other honors in higher education. Those who took part still remember.

Over all of my years, I spent 50 of them in the one-room school, eight in attending one and 42 in teaching. So I have many memories. If I forget I look at the plate on my wall which contains the name of every pupil who went to school to me in Greenwood.

I can't turn back TIME but I do reminisce. Rena attended the funeral services for her brother in Brunswick on Saturday. Several others of the family also went.

Kathy Curtis, Kim Rouke, Joan and Vanessa Morgan, Fay and Ann Holt and I attended the wedding of Lucy Bragg to Glenn Wilcox at East Summer on Sept. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Waino Waisanen called on me this week. He went to school here years ago and now lives in Rockland. I was very pleased to see him, as well as his wife. My other callers were Barbara Honkala of East Bethel and Evelyn Tamminen of Yarmouth, and several local friends.

East Stoneham

By ELEANOR NELSON

Kenneth Knox and Wilma Taylor of Lovell Center called on Eleanor Nelson and on Frances Grant one day last week.

Brenda Files went to Portland last Wednesday and visited Earl and Shirley Files.

On Tuesday, there was a church meeting and much business was discussed and voted on. Sept. 23 is the next church supper here in E. Stoneham and Oct. 14 is the yummy Harvest Supper, which is really good and you won't want to miss it.

On Saturday, several members from town attended the program at Capitol Hill in Augusta. This was a campaign to "Save Maine's Flags" aimed at preserving the nearly 200 flags and remnants which have been decayed by time and neglect. The Maine State Museum launched this campaign to make people aware of the need to preserve these flags which were carried into battle. More than 100 flags and flag pieces are from the Civil War and from Joshua Chamberlain's 20th Maine Regiment. Some of the soldiers broke the staffs and tore the flags into small pieces and hid them in their uniforms to save them from falling into the hands of the enemy. They hope to raise about $25,000 from foundations and individual donors to help preserve these flags. Last spring the museum purchased a large storage container to keep the flags protected, and some need more special care.

We have been enjoying the zucchinis and fresh ripe, red tomatoes given to us, and the nice fall weather. Is there anything better?

This summer I found a film in an old camera and took the film in this past week to be developed. I believe the film was about 14 years old, and what a surprise to see the pictures. There were four of them developed in glossy black and white.

On Sept. 14, the Knight Riders Snowmobile Club held their regular meeting with about 20 members present. The secretary and treasurer were absent so Alice Harmon and Cindy Fox filled their chairs. The next meeting will be Oct. 12.

Bob and Ann Wyman have gone to No. Carolina to visit her folks.

Kate Flynn has gone to Bethesda, Md., as she got word that her son-in-law had passed away.

Frances Adams was taken to the Stephens Memorial Hospital and has had surgery on her hip but expects to be home soon.

Just a reminder--the Lewis Dana Hill Memorial Library in No. Lovell has just two more Tuesdays when they will be open 5 to 8 p.m. and then they go onto their winter schedule of Thursdays, 2 to 5 p.m. and Saturdays, 9 to 12 a.m. Hopefully more townspeople will take advantage of this nice nearby library.

The annual Birthday Supper will be held this Saturday, Sept. 25, at the First Congregational Church, CEB. The ham dinner will begin at 5:30 p.m. There will be an assortment of birthday cakes served for dessert.

The Andover Historical Society's open house will be held on Oct. 3, from 1 to 4 p.m. They will be featuring a display of "Hobbies of Yesteryears." Anyone who has samples of needlework, wood carvings, musical instruments, weapons, and other hobby crafts that would

Orders for the new picture placemats will be taken. Contact Beverly Swan at 392-4742 for more information.

The Andover Public Library will hold a Story Hour starting Thursday, Sept. 23, from 2:45 to 3:30. All area children of ages kindergarten through third grade are invited to participate. A snack will be provided. The library is looking for volunteers so they can have a story hour every Thursday. If you would be interested, please contact Carol during library hours at 392-4841.

Twelve members of the East Andover Community Club were in Gorham, N.H. on Sept. 13 for their annual dinner. Making the trip were Barbara Meisner, Dolly Jones, Evelyn Bell, Joan Carney, Lila Farrington, Betty Moore, Dottie Arsenault, Lorena Simmons, Charlotte Sennett, Phyllis Farrar, Beatrice Schneider and Violet Swain. Five other members were unable to attend. The Oct. 11 meeting will be at the home of Blanche Schneider beginning at 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Swain recently entertained a "1918" couple, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dufresne of South Londonderry, Vt.; high school classmates Charles Beek and his wife, Norma, of Lake Oswego, Oregon and Norman Jonassen and his wife, Lorraine, of Windham. Others visiting the Swains recently were Sharren

Walker and Robert Burrill of Pacifica, Calif. and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jordan of Westbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sennett Jr. entertained the "Averill" reunion on Sept. 11. There were 35 who attended the event.

Andrea Wing attended the Oxford County Agricultural Fair in Oxford on Monday night. Sarah Hart, Andrea's granddaughter, was a contestant in the Miss Oxford County Fair Pageant. The winner was Beth Wullerman of Oxford and Sarah received first runner-up and received many gifts for her efforts. Sarah also received the Miss Congeniality award that is voted on by the participants in the pageant. Sarah is a sophomore at Telstar High School. Andrea also took Jessie, Sarah's sister, with her to the fair. They both enjoyed the rides and midway after the pageant.

Andrea Wing visited her brother Vernon Poland at the Ledgeview Nursing Home on Friday night. He seems to be doing quite well and has improved a lot. His wife Tommy, daughter Tracy, and granddaughter Alexis were visiting also.

Betty Estabrook, Bath, and Maude Alice Hadley and Cleo Ryerson met recently in Lewiston and then went on to Rockport and Rockland and visited harbors along the coast. They had lunch and enjoyed a picnic supper. These sisters try to get together each year for a day's outing. They have done this for a number of years and always have a good time.

Emery and Cleo Ryerson attended their oldest grandson Keith's and Becky's wedding at Screw Auger Falls. Saturday, Sept. 11 at 11 a.m.

Cleo Ryerson called on Andrea Wing recently and showed her a nice picture that was taken last Memorial Day. It was of three women of the Ring-McKeen American Legion Auxiliary who were in the parade with Cleo. Annie Walker was the oldest member; she is 102 years old and still lives alone. Sarah Doughty and Edith Herrick were also in the picture with Cleo.

Cleo Ryerson also told me while she was visiting that she had gone over to visit her son Perry and wife Anna and their children Chad and Kyle who live in Wayne. After supper Anna talked Cleo into going on a three-mile walk.

Randi Lee Mack had her fourth birthday, Sept. 11 with her family and grandparents. They had cake and ice cream and lots of presents. Sunday night, Randi's father, Ricky Mack, celebrated his birthday. Ricky had some surprise telephone calls, cards and gifts. Refreshments were served.

NOTES FROM

Telstar Guidance

The 1993-94 school year is off to a busy start at Telstar High with everyone looking forward to a productive year. Students, the past two weeks have settled in to their six-period class schedules. In addition to fine tuning students' academic programs, counselors Dan Hart and Beth LaVallee have been busily setting up new peer helper groups. Self Groups, Peer Tutoring, CHOICES Career Exploration, Job Bank, Freshmen Awareness and National Honor Society will again provide many and varied support services to students throughout the year.

The Telstar staff and student body warmly welcomes 11 new students to the school this year. They are senior: Esther Arcos, an exchange student from Spain; junior: Jamie Mason, formerly of Gray-New Gloucester; sophomores: Cynthia Mora (an exchange student from Costa Rica); Taylor Olson, entering from Wakefield, R.I.; James Holden, Colebrook, N.H.; Katie Groves, Suffern, N.Y.; Jen Murphy, entering from Zephyrhills, Fla.; freshmen: Sarah Fitzherbert, transferring in from Holy Cross High, So. Portland; Warren Thurston, from South Baptist Church, So. Paris; Kellie Szente, North Ridgeville, Ohio; Jamie Hopper, formerly a student at Mountain Valley High School. Freshmen Awareness members have enjoyed the opportunity to "buddy" up with these individuals in order to ease their transition into their new school and communities.

This year's juniors and seniors have been receiving post-secondary planning presentations by Mr. Hart in their English classes this month. Concurrently, Mrs. LaVallee is visiting freshmen classes to orient them to high school counseling services and prepare them for the upcoming Freshmen Awareness Workshop. In early October, Mrs. LaVallee will meet with sophomore classes to further continue the process of post-secondary planning, career decision making and goal setting.

Important upcoming dates for Telstar students and parents to be aware of include--

Sept. 28: Sophomore Team Parent Night at TRHS, 7 p.m.

Sept. 29: College Fair at the University of Southern Maine.

Oct. 1: Registration deadline for November College Boards.

Oct. 5-6: FACT Workshop at White Cap Lodge, Sunday River.

Oct. 8: Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Testing for TRHS seniors.

Oct. 13: Junior/Senior Parent Night, 7 p.m. at Telstar

Oct. 16: PSAT testing for TRHS sophomores and juniors at Telstar.

Nov. 6: November College Boards at Gould Academy.

In addition, the following college and military representatives will be visiting Telstar in the coming weeks:

Sept. 22, 1:30 p.m.--Johnson and Wales University

Sept. 23, 1 p.m.--U. Maine-Orono

Sept. 29, 8:45 a.m.--U. Maine-Presque Isle

HIGH SCHOOL SOCCER

The Rebels' first loss of the season came 3-0 last Tuesday to Dirigo (Dixfield). The Cougars scored three unanswered goals. Telstar's Todd Wing was forced to make 18 saves. The Dirigo goalie logged 10 saves. The Cougars led in shots on goal 23-17 and had a 5-2 advantage in penalty corners.

Thursday, the Telstar and Mt. Valley defenses were unrelenting as the two teams battled to a 0-0 tie in regulation time. The Rebels and Falcons were still scoreless after two overtimes. Wing had 16 saves and Mt. Valley 8. Telstar took 16 shots and the Falcons 23. Telstar started poorly, according to Coach Bob Remington. The Rebels nearly gave up goals in the first 15 minutes. But the team played better and better as the game went on, Remington said. Both teams had several near-misses in the game and overtime. "Sean Gilson played an excellent first-half on defense and Chuck Mason played a solid sweeper throughout," Remington said. "Sean Kangas, Tim Remington, Josh Fogg and Cory Koch kept the pressure on the Mt. Valley defense."

HIGH SCHOOL FIELD HOCKEY

Telstar's field hockey team added two more games to the win column last week. Wednesday, the Rebels beat Livermore 2-0. Kelsey Cross scored the first goal on a pass from Beth Howe. Amanda Sysko drove in the only other point. Telstar took five shots on goal. Goaltender Jessie Wight made three saves. The Rebels held the Andies to three shots on goal and the Livermore goaltender made two saves. Coach Sally Hannon said fullback Sarah Coolidge made several impressive hard drives to clear the ball away from the Rebel goal cage. The J.V. team also won 2-0. Harmony Mills scored both goals.

Saturday, after a scoreless game and one ten-minute overtime period, Telstar's Angie Mills drove in the winning goal during the Rebels' third and final overtime penalty corner, giving Telstar a 1-0 win. "It was a great team effort by all," Hannon said. "Especially in the overtime and penalty corners--communication and aggressiveness were very visible." The Rebels tallied seven shots on goal and seven saves. The Ramblers took eight shots, and Winthrop's goaltender had seven saves.

Gould

GIRLS SOCCER

Gould's girls' soccer team tied one game and lost three at Saturday's Maine independent schools' round-robin tournament at Hyde School. Maggie Buckingham scored the Huskies' only goal in the 1-1 tie with Kents Hill.

BIATHLON

Scott Jerome of Kents Hill combined the day's best shooting with fast running to take first place in the Gould Academy Summer Biathlon Sunday. The 1993 Bates College graduate was challenged briefly by current Bates nordic ski team member Ben Dunlap. Dunlap's running time was 22 seconds faster than Jerome's, but Jerome hit all five prone targets and three of five standing targets, while Dunlap hit two targets at each of the two stages. Fifteen seconds running credit was given for each target hit.

Nancy Lund's perfect prone shooting helped her fend off challenger Alice Goodwin by over a minute. Mark Florenz of Paris was the top junior entrant, finishing over a minute ahead of Jason Prosser of the University of Maine-Orono, and Quentin Stockwell of Gould.

Ira Cohen topped the Master's class, finishing four seconds ahead of Bob Brosius of Wayne. John Leroy of Brunswick finished third eight seconds later. Micah Brosius, 13, was the youngest entrant.

MAINEWATCH TO EXAMINE CMP RATE HIKE REQUEST

A special hour-long edition of MAINEWATCH on Maine Public Television Thursday, Sept. 23 at 8 p.m. will explore both sides of Central Maine Power's $88.7 million rate-increase request now before the Public Utilities Commission.

MAINEWATCH host Patsy Wiggins will welcome to the program representatives from CMP, the PUC, and consumer representatives. In his field report, Bill Maroldo will explore the issues behind the rate increase request, and also the role of the PUC. Wiggins will also talk with average consumers on the street and have their opinions on the case. Because of the length of the program, Thursday night's repeat episode of "Made in Maine" will not be shown.

MAINEWATCH is Maine Public Television's public affairs program on issues facing the people of Maine. Broadcast of the program is made possible by grants from New England Telephone Co., Healthsource Maine, Inc. and Mid-Maine Savings Bank.

Owen Art Gallery Opens Friday

Mahoosuc Arts notes:

It's a Band! It's a Song! It's a Way of Life! It's The Wicked Good Band with its unique combination of Down East humor and jug band music featuring band members Steve Bither, Bill Schulz and Jere deWaters. The Mahoosuc Arts Council will present The Wicked Good Band on Saturday, Sept. 25 at 7 p.m. at the Telstar High School in Bethel. Advance ticket prices are $5 for adults and $3 for students and are on sale at Preb's Pharmacy in Bethel or by calling 824-3575 or will be available at the door for $7 and $5.

The band has been making audiences in Maine and the rest of New England laugh for over 25 years. Its array of normal instruments--piano, guitar, mandolin, harmonica--shares the stage with some not-so-normal instruments--washboard, washtub bass, jug, crescent wrenches, bird whistles, kazooos and much more. A typical concert involves fun with tourists, rusty cars, yuppies, lawn ornaments, road kill, and potatoes. It's all "from Maine with love" and it's all as unforgettable as Saturday night's bean supper on Sunday morning.

The Wicked Good Band plays at concerts, conventions, festivals and parties all over New England. They have appeared before sell-out crowds at the Portland Performing Arts Center and in competition with pulp trucks at the Houlton Potato Feast. The band plays regularly at the Yarmouth Clam Festival, Deering Oaks Festival, and have appeared at the National Press Club in Washington and TV specials on Maine and New Hampshire Public TV and on ABC TV's Good Morning America.

Jackson-Silver Post #68

Members of the Jackson-Silver Post No. 68, American Legion, met for its first bimonthly meeting at the Legion Hall, Gore Road, Locke Mills, Thursday, Sept. 2.

A brief installation service of the Sons of Legionnaires, more commonly known as "SALS," with Mike Walsh, SALS attachment vice commander doing the installing. The following officers were installed: commander, Jarod Crockett; first vice commander, David Wallace; second vice commander, Jerry Greenwell, Jr.; adjutant, Scott Tripp; finance officer, Jeff Howe; chaplain, "Chris" Brooks; historian, Mark Tripp; Sgl. of arms, Andrew Bartlett.

Special guests present at the installation were Mike Walsh, district vice commander and "Chris" Walsh, district sgt. of arms.

The regular business meeting began with the reading of the minutes of the last meeting before summer adjournment, followed by reports of the various officers present. Finance Officer Richard Cross gave a very good report of the Post baseball team, indicating that they had had a very good season. Following this report there was some discussion of sending the players to a players' clinic when it is given. The special committee responsible for getting engraved name tags for the memorial plaque planned by the Post reported on the expense of the engraving plates per letter.

There was a temporary break in the meeting to take up the matter of getting the names of the Post members who would be attending the American Legion Auxiliary Dept. of Maine Convention to be held at Sunday River on Sept. 24 to 26.

The first matter under new business was the matter of dues. There will be an increase in membership dues beginning Jan. 1, 1994 to $20 per year for each member. It was voted to pay paid-up-for-life members (P.U.F.L.) for eight members. It was voted to pay for a computer training course for the finance chairman, Richard Cross, at Telstar High School.

It was further voted to donate $250 to the Freshman Awareness Committee at Telstar High School. Another donation of $250 was given to the Commander's Project at Camp Tall Pines, Poland Springs for the Special Olympic Program. The final donation voted was $10 to the Second District Oratorical Contest.

It was an honor to have Commander Joseph Bartos of the Second District with us throughout a very lengthy meeting. He made a few remarks about the Second District and other matters of interest to the Post just before adjournment at 9:45 p.m.

Jackson-Silver Auxiliary

Americanism is one of the special ideals of The American Legion and Auxiliary. Music is something they deem important, too. On Sept. 16 the two were combined in a program arranged by Mary Lyon, who is chairman of both committees at the Unit level.

Before their regular meetings the Post members joined the auxiliary in guessing the adjectives (from a to z) used to describe a good American as given in the musical clues provided by Mary Lyon at the piano and by Martha Stowell with charades.

Special guests present were: Mrs. Helen Audet of Gray, department Americanism chairman and Mrs. Jeannette Holland of Westbrook, who heads the department music committee.

As refreshments were served following the program, a lovely cake was presented to Herb and Mary Lyon, who will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on Oct. 2. Since they are departing on a trip on that day, it was decided to surprise them.

At the meeting which followed, President Leah Deegan revealed that on very short notice she had served a dinner to the District VFW which was meeting at the Locke Mills Legion Hall last week. Another recent fund-raiser was the raffling of a large clown puppet and child's rocking chair. Linda Mason won the clown and the rocker went to Charlene Haines.

Christine Wilson, recent bride of Post member Delwin Wilson, was introduced as the Unit's newest member. Membership now stands at 67 for 1994.

The date for the card and game party, which had been changed from October to November, has now reverted to the original date of Oct. 24 at 1 p.m. It is hoped that a large group will form many four-somes and come to enjoy the games and fellowship. A minimum donation of $4 (for Special Olympics) entitles one to a piece of delicious pie and beverage before play begins as well as a chance to win one of the many door prizes throughout the afternoon.

On Sept. 25 the department Fall Conference will be held at the Summit Hotel at Sunday River. There will be coffee and doughnuts served during the registration period. Meeting sessions run from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. There will be a social hour at 5:30 p.m., banquet at 6:30 and dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The Second District, American Legion and Auxiliary will meet at 2 p.m. on Oct. 17, hosted by the Roderick-Crosby Post No. 28 in Farmington.

The next regular meeting of the Post and Unit will be Oct. 7. No special program has been planned but there will be preparations for the Boys and Girls State dinner on Oct. 21 when the menu is planned around chicken pie. Delegates to Boys and Girls State last June will be honored and are invited to bring their families.

Member Noreen Russo is back in Stephens Memorial Hospital, for the fourth time this year, and underwent surgery on Sept. 16.

A card was signed for her at the meeting that evening, and it is hoped that members will continue to remember her with cards and prayers.

NATIONAL AUXILIARY V.P. TO SPEAK AT CONVENTION

The Bethel and Locke Mills American Legion Auxiliary posts will host this year's annual Maine American Legion Auxiliary convention at the Summit Hotel on Sept. 25 and 26.

Eastern Division National Vice President A. Marie "Rusty" North will attend. She is a member of the Hamilton Unit 20 in Baltimore, Md. North will speak to auxiliary members Saturday afternoon and at a banquet in her honor that evening.

The banquet is open to the public. Reservations must be made by Sept. 17 and the cost is $15.

For more information about convention activities or the banquet call Jeri Greenwell at 824-2532.

MANAGEMENT CLUB

Western Maine Management Club will meet Oct. 4 at the Shorelands Restaurant in Harrison. Social hour will be from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. with dinner from 6:30 to 7:30. The meal will be $14 per person.

The guest speaker, starting at 7:30 p.m., will be Gayle Russell of DHS, Bureau of Health. She will discuss clean air in the workplace.

Reservations for the Oct. 4 meeting are being taken by Terri Grover of Fred P. Saunders Co. in Bridgton, 647-3331. The deadline for reservations is Thursday, Sept. 30.

TAX PRACTITIONER SEMINAR

The Internal Revenue Service and the State of Maine Bureau of Taxation will offer seminars for tax practitioners.

The Tax Practitioner Institute is an annual seminar designed for professional tax preparers including practitioners, public accountants, bookkeepers, independent accountants, attorneys and others who need to stay informed on the changing federal and state tax laws and regulations.

Free eye exams offered

The Maine Project, a program to provide free eye examinations to low-income, uninsured working Mainers and their families is now under way in Maine. Sponsored by the Maine Optometric Association, The Maine Project is designed to help people who need eye care but have no means to obtain it.

Low-income working families with no health insurance are at a great disadvantage for health care benefits because of their employed status where they often fall between the cracks of government and private medical assistance programs.

To be eligible for care through Vision USA - The Maine Project, one member of the family must be employed, the family must not be covered by government or private health insurance, eye exams must not have been received in the past year, and household income cannot exceed an established level based on household size. Applications are screened by the local Lions Clubs for eligibility before being referred to the program.

Workers who believe they may be eligible for eye exams are encouraged to call the Maine Optometric Association at 268-2031 for information and applications.

Obituaries

LESTER R. THURSTON

Lester R. Thurston, age 95, president and chairman of the United Telephone Companies of Pennsylvania and New Jersey from 1942 to 1965, died peacefully on September 13, 1993, at the Clover Manor Living Center, Auburn, where he had resided since 1983. He was formerly of Andover.

Mr. Thurston was born in Byron on May 23, 1898, the son of Ralph and Emily Lohnes Thurston. He graduated from Andover High School, class of 1915 and the University of Maine at Orono, class of 1920, with a B.A. in electrical engineering. During WW-I he served with the U. S. Army.

Mr. Thurston was widely recognized as a leader in the telephone industry. After nine years with the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, he joined United Telephone where he served for over 33 years until retirement in 1963. During his presidency of United, the number of telephones served increased from 30,000 to 120,000, the number of employees doubled, and the plant investment grew from $5 million to $48 million.

He served as president of the Pennsylvania Independent Telephone Association and member of the board of trustees from 1941 to 1963. For his achievements, Mr. Thurston was recognized by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce in 1986 and was inducted into the Hall of Fame of Pennsylvania Independent Telephone Pioneers in 1992.

Over the years Mr. Thurston was active in community service, having been founder of Goodwill Industries of Cent. Pennsylvania. He was active in the Boy Scouts, and was president of Keystone Area Council in Harrisburg, Pa., vice chairman Region III Boy Scouts of America and holder of the Silver Beaver and Silver Antelope, two of scouting's highest awards. He was a director of the Harrisburg Area Chamber of Commerce, he served on the advisory board of the Harrisburg Hospital, was president and director of the Community Chest—a forerunner of the United Way—and was a member of the Grace United Methodist Church in Harrisburg, where he was president of the board of trustees and chairman of the Official Board. While residing in Maine he was a member of the Andover Congregational Church and had been a member of Cabot Lodge No. 117, K. of P. He was a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

Mr. Thurston married the late Martha Mason in 1921; she died in 1930. He was married in Valley Forge, Pa., on Feb. 28, 1931 to the late Eva Claire Snell, who died in Auburn on Jan. 7, 1989.

Surviving are two sons: Lester R. Thurston, Jr. of State College, Pa., and William C. Thurston of Weston, Mass.; one sister, Ivy E. Thurston of Rumford; six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Graveside services will be held at the convenience of the family. Interment will be in the Woodlawn Cemetery, Andover. Those who desire may contribute in his memory to the Andover Congregational Church, Andover, ME 04216.

Arrangements were under the direction of Meader & Son Funeral Home, Rumford.

DONALD C. VARNEY

Donald C. Varney, 88, of Readfield died Friday, Sept. 17, 1993 at Kennebec Valley Medical Center in Augusta.

Mr. Varney was born in Sumner on Oct. 19, 1904, the son of Newell M. Varney Jr. and Evy Russell Thomas, and was educated in Sumner schools. He was a Sumner selectman for seven years.

He was a truck driver and a woodsman and worked for many years as a herdsman for Phil Chadbourne, as well as in the P.H. Chadbourne mill in Bethel. He was in the dairy business in Sumner and sold milk in the Rumford and Peru areas. He also worked at the Gardiner farms as a herdsman.

He belonged to the Union Grange and was a member of the East Sumner Congregational Church, where he was one of the oldest members for many years. He was executive of the Artificial Breeding Assoc. and head of the local farm bureau. He also served as official of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

On June 29, 1929, he married Ellen Spaulding. She died on Aug. 25, 1991.

Survivors include a daughter, Claire Cloutier of Hartford, Conn.; a daughter-in-law, Linda Varney of Readfield; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by a son, Richard E. Varney, who drowned in Lake Maranacook in Readfield in 1972.

Funeral services were held Monday, Sept. 20, 11 a.m. at the East Sumner Congregational Church. Interment was at the Elmwood Cemetery, East Sumner. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made in his memory to the East Sumner Congo Church, RR 2, Box 800, Buckfield, ME 04220.

Card of Thanks

The family of Kenneth Brooks wants to take this opportunity to thank all the friends and family that sent cards and gifts during the loss in remembrance of our beloved "Duffy". Thanks to the Pleasant Valley Bible Church and family for their generous donations of food. Our grateful prayers are extended to all of you for honoring Duffy thru donations to the Hunts Corner Cemetery Assoc. and all kindness shown to us.

God Bless you all
Kenneth, Bob & Jackie, Kelly & Andy and family

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bennett

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anger of Fall River, Mass., are pleased to announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Catherine Anne Ponte, to Michael Roy Bennett.

Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bennett of Bethel.

The two were married Aug. 21 at the United Methodist Church. An outdoor reception at Kimball Park in Bethel followed.

The bride wore an antique white, T-length, lace gown and carried a bouquet of calla lily's (cream) fuchsia snapdragons.

Hsidi Akers, sister of the groom, was maid of honor.

Tim Akers, brother-in-law of groom, was best man.

Following a wedding trip to the Balsams, the couple are residing at Church Street, Bethel.

The bride graduated from BMC Durfee High in 1987 and attended Bristol College in Boston. She is an advertising and graphics assistant at the Bethel Citizen.

The groom graduate from Telstar High School in 1990 and is employed at Bennett's Lumbering as a logger.
